Blue Mountains courses are not suitable for all minors so parents or guardians must consult Allie Pepper Adventures about whether the course is appropriate for them prior to booking.

The Environment

Allie Pepper Adventures endeavours to minimise their impacts while conducting courses in the Blue Mountains. We expect that course participants will adhere to our minimal impact practises by not picking up, altering or removing plants, animals or any other natural or historical feature while on the course. We also expect that participants will stick to tracks, carry out all rubbish and adhere to minimal impact toileting procedures.
